Petty Jealousies Among the

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 18.—This city has recently been witnessing a demonstration of some of the imperfections of commission government. The commissioners have been squabbling and bickering among themselves, opposing each other's projects, getting their personal ambitions between the spokes of the wheels of government.

It Won't Run Itself

The story of Des Moines for the last eight years is the story of the rise, and to some extent of the fall, of civic righteousness. It shows most clearly how commission government will work—and how it may stop working. Above all, it proves that unless the average citizen keeps one eye on his municipal interests, they are apt to get away from him.

Public Mustn't Sleep

Undoubtedly, one of the chief reasons for the success of commission government is that the campaign for the reform attracts public attention to public business. How to keep that public attention awake is a problem that many of the reform cities will have to face in the future. Des Moines, which adopted commission government in 1907, may be said to have faced it already, and therein lies the importance of her story.

It Used to be Bad

Before the change, condition in this city were picturesquely bad.

BERLIN, via Wireless to Sayville,
L. I., Jan. 18.—England and France have presented a virtual ultimatum to Greece, according to Sofia dispatches today, demanding that Greece hand to the diplomats of the central empires their passports within forty-eight hours.

If the Greek government does not accept, the allies will take "necessary measures," the Sofia dispatch asserted. The Sofia dispatch coming on the heels of Athens reports that British troops have been landed five miles from the Greek capital, left little doubt in Berlin that the allies have decided to exert pressure of armed forces to compel Greece to abandon her neutral position.

Anglo-French Land Troops

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Large bodies of Anglo-French troops are being landed on the Greek coast to reinforce General Sarrail and meet the Austro-German-Bulgarian drive which, it is believed, will not be long delayed.

The reinforcing troops presumably are veterans of Gallipoli. Salonika dispatches reported the largest forces being landed on the shores of the Gulf of Oranai, fifty miles northeast of Salonika, to protect the allies' right wing. That General Sarrail expects a hard smash by the Bulgars in this region is indicated by the fact that he caused the railway bridge at

FORMER GOVERNOR JUMPS INTO RACE AFTER BOSSHARD

Says Philipp's Economy
Failure Is Endorsement of His Own Former Administrations

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 18.—Following a "call" presented to him by forty Wisconsin republicans, former Governor Francis E. McGovern today announced his candidacy for governor at the September primary election.

In his acceptance, McGovern says that "the call proves that the logic of events is slowly but steadily vindicating my administration of state affairs and is reversing the tempestuous current of adverse criticism directed against me two years ago."

He declared that under the present administration appropriations have increased, expenses grown,
many new, high salaried offices created and "taxes, taking the state as a whole, are higher than ever before."

McGovern states that this is not because Governor Philipp has not tried hard to redeem his public pledges but because he could not do so.

A conference of friends of Mr.
McGovern in the Republican house Monday resulted in the passage of resolutions urging the former governor to seek the nomination.

The committee which drew up the resolutions was composed of Judge
H. L. Maxfield, Janesville; W. L.
Hurlbut, Oshkosh; H. H. Peavey, Washburn; Zeno Host, Milwaukee; and Arthur W. Prehn, Wausau.

The endorsement recited achieve-

tration, and criticized the adminis-

DITHMAR ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR RE-NOMINATION FOR OFFICE OF LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR TODAY

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 18.—Lieut. Gov. E. F. Dithmar late yesterday announced his candidacy for re-election. The announcement came in connection with Dithmar's declaration that he will support Senator Otto Bosshard, of La Crosse, for governor. Dithmar's name had been heard as a possible candidate for governor, and in renouncing the idea and endorsing Senator Bosshard, the lieutenant governor said:

"I shall be pleased to serve the state a second term as lieutenant governor if my last record meets the approval of the people of Wiscon-

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 18.—Senator Otto Bosshard, of La Crosse, who was here on announced his candidacy for governor on the republican ticket.

"I am a candidate for the Bosshard. "The requests

Long prominently identified with the group of prominent citizens who have made their influence felt in the progressive development of Wiscon-

VIENNA GIVES OUT HER PEACE TERMS WITH MONTENEGRO

ROME, Jan. 18.—King Nicholas has issued a proclamation to the Montenegrin people, explaining that he was compelled to choose between surrender to Austria or utter ruin, according to advice received here this afternoon. He urged his soldiers to lay down their arms in accordance with the Austrian peace pact.

Unconfirmed reports said that Austria will guarantee Mont-enegro's independence and grant her an Adriatic port in exchange for Mount Lovcen.

BERLIN, via Wireless to Sayville,
L. I., Jan. 18.—The terms under which Austria consented to the cessation of hostilities pending peace negotiations with Montenegro were announced in Vienna dispatches today.

The Montenegrin soldiers agreed to lay down all their arms and it was agreed that all citizens should come forward in groups and also surrender their arms.

Austrian authorities are to search the whole of Montenegro to prevent the formation of guerilla bands and that all Montenegrin males should be concentrated in certain districts designated by the Austrian authorities.

Austrian authorities are to take over control of all cities and all means of transportation come under their control.

VICTIMS BROTHER FIRES SHOT INTO HEART OF VILLAS

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 18.—A soldier whose brother had been slain by Manuel Bacca Valles, Villista bandit, ended Valles' career in an official execution today.

The soldier was chosen by Captain Regento, Carranzista commander, as Valles' executioner, when the bandit chieftain, aroused from a sound sleep aboard a train at Juarez, was led out and told he was to die.

A rifle muzzle was placed against Valles' breast, and he died as quickly as hundreds of those he had executed while "Villa's butcher."

A few newspapermen and soldiers witnessed the execution at 5 a. m.
Valles' body was taken to the Juarez customs house, where it was placed beside that of General Rodriguez, where it was viewed by thousands as evidence of Carranza's policy to run down the bandits.

It was reported yesterday he was executed at Casas Grande.

The execution took place within a few feet of several Pullman cars in which American women and children refugees were sleeping.

Valles met death calmly and without a word of protest. He had been known as Villa's "butcher," having acted as the bandit chief's official executioner.

LOCAL MEN EAGER TO ENDORSE RACE OF OTTO BOSSHARD

Many were the endorsements of "Bosshard for Governor," heard on the streets and in the offices of La Crosse this morning, following the local man's former announcement in Madison last night.

Following are a few of the sentiments expressed by leading citizens of La Crosse county:

"As state senator, Mr. Bosshard has always been the friend of organized labor. He has championed—as a rule successfully—most of the legislation of vital importance to the worker.
The rank and file of unionism, I think, will be back of him in his race for the governor's chair."

—John Rae, local organizer for the La Crosse Trades and Labor council.

"The candidacy of Senator Bosshard will meet with general approval. He is admirably fitted for the office of governor by education, political experience, and acquaintance with the state and its needs. With him in the executive office the people of Wisconsin may be certain that everything possible will be done to give real meaning to our state motto, 'Forward.'"—Jno.
E. McConnell, former assemblyman.

portunity to observe the work

SWEDEN MONARCH WARNS BRITAIN ON INTERFERENCE

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 18.—In a speech from the throne at the opening of the Swedish parliament on Monday, King Gustav delivered what many of his hearers regarded as a warning to England against further acts against Swedish commerce.

The king called parliament's attention to the alleged "usurpation of power" by belligerents. He named no one of the belligerents, but in view of reports that England is about to declare a blockade of the entire German coast, thus cutting off trade between Sweden and Germany, the king's remarks were considered most significant.

"The belligerents have neglected in an ever-increasing degree the written international laws for the protection of neutrals and limiting violence in war," he said. "The Swedish government has more than once been obliged to intervene against attempts to put Sweden's industrial and commercial life under the usurped control of another power."

This declaration met with hearty cheers.

In a recent dispatch from Copenhagen, Charles P. Stewart, a United Press staff correspondent, who had just left Stockholm, declared Sweden would enter the war on the side of Germany if convinced that the allies might otherwise win the war.

SENATOR BOSSHARD BEGAN CAREER AS STUDENT SPEAKER

Senator Otto Bosshard, for the last two sessions of the legislature floor-leader of the progressives in the senate, is a native of La Crosse. He was born August 9, 1876, in the town of Bangor, of sturdy Swiss and German stock. His elementary education, and college preparation was received in the common and high schools of La Crosse.

He is an alumnus of the University of Wisconsin, graduating in the class of 1898. Following his course at Madison, he entered Georgetown college of law, at Washington, D. C., and received his degree there in 1900.

Began as Student Campaigner

Senator Bosshard's political career began before his scholastic days were over, for in the campaign of 1898 he was an active speaker about the state, in demand because of his fluent command of the German tongue. In the campaign of 1900, immediately upon his return from Washington, he was one of the active workers in La Crosse county, and two years later stood as the progressive republican candidate for district attorney. He was elected by a comfortable margin, and held the office from 1903 for three terms, until 1909.

In 1910, when Senator Thomas
Morris became lieutenant governor, Mr. Bosshard was elected to fill his unexpired term as representative of

NEWS NOTES from MOVIELAND

One of the greatest artists on the picture screen in these busy days of the silent drama is the popular King Baggott, the sterling man with the Imp-Universal forces. This actor stands almost alone in comedy, drama, romantic and even tragic roles. King Baggott is a genuine actor with a magnetic personality and stage presence that makes his work stand out so brilliantly on the screens of picture theaters.

Born in St. Louis, Mo., where as a boy he was leader on the amateur stage, Baggott entered the professional ranks after directing the Players' club productions of his home town. He was an athlete, having been captain of a college football team, and still retains his splendid physique, due, no doubt, to his athletic pastime when a boy. His first experience in the dramatic profession was in an amateur production given by the Catholic church in St. Louis. This led him into professional life, in spite of his father's objections to the stage.

Vivian Blackburn Defies Conventions

Vivian Blackburn, who is featured in the Pathe-Henry W. Savage film production of "Excuse Me," is the daughter of an army officer who was stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. As everyone knows, army circles have social strata of their own. The youthful Miss Blackburn has a mind of her own, and, possessing an ardent ambition to go on the stage, she defied conventions and went to New York to seek an engagement. There she was fortunate enough to obtain one with May Irwin and stayed with her for one season. Then followed engagements with John Drew and three seasons with Anna Held. She was in the original company of "Everywoman" and for two seasons played with the original company of "Excuse Me."

The evil consequences that follow a young wife's efforts to win her husband's interest from engrossing political affairs by flirting with a dangerous young society man are illustrated with poignant effect in the five-reel photodrama, "As a Woman

King Baggott.

King Baggott joined the film ranks five or six years ago and has remained with the Imp-Universal company from the very beginning. He is a director and author as well as actor, and only recently was president of the Screen club, a great honor among silent drama players.

Sows." This will be released on January 24, as a Mutual Masterpiece, De Luxe Edition, by the Gaumont Co. The husband and wife in the eternal triangle are played by Alexander Gaden and Miss Gertrude Robinson.

Frances Nelson is rapidly approaching stardom under the World Film flag. She is playing the leading role in the film version of "The Point of View," Jules Eckert Goodman's play, now in course of preparation, and will then be featured in a new picture. She is only nineteen years old, too.

Market Square

Over two hundred cords of wood have been brought to the Market Square and sold within the last two weeks, along with other products brought in by the farmers.

Among the farmers doing business at the city scales today are: William Hames, South Ridge; Miller Brothers, Hokah road; R. Hacht, Stoddard; Henry Koethe, Brownsville road; R. Barron, Sand Lake; August Herman, Goose Island, and William Claus, of Goose Island.

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, about nine times out of ten, are due to hyperacidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit to those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, it is suggested that you try a meal of any food or foods which you like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of Bisurated Magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any excess acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you probably will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. There is nothing better than Bisurated Magnesia as a food corrective and antacid. It has no direct action on the stomach, but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could be possibly done by any drug or medicine that acts upon the stomach contents. Medicines of various kinds should be taken whenever necessary, but there is no sense in dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of the trouble. Get a little Bisurated Magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the Bisurated Magnesia, as directed above, and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on the subject of eating. C. A. Begun can supply you.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

MATIE'S CLAIM

BY IZOLA FORRESTER

(Copyright, 1916, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

The two cars turned simultaneously into the hilly street leading to the little railroad station.

Parker laughed back over his shoulder at the other driver and called something that was answered by a shout.

"Do you know any of them?" asked Matie.

"Rather. It's old Doc Warren, grand old Doc Warren, great old Doc! So long, Doc!"

The other car was gaining, though Warren, at the wheel, slipped into high speed and took the hill dizzily. As they flashed by, Matie caught her first glimpse of him, sitting far down in his seat, his cap pulled low over his keen, dark eyes, just the hint of a dark mustache and a boyish smile of impish joy at beating Parker.

At the station, while she and Mildred went inside out of the cold, Parker shook hands with the victor.

"I'd have let her go, too, if it hadn't been for the precious load aboard."

"Who is she?" asked Warren, with a far-off look in his eyes.

"Not for you, boy," laughed Parker. Grand old Doc, she's of rarest clay—Matie Burroughs. Father produces millions from patent food product for dyspeptics, but he hasn't invented anything for the trail of victims Matie leaves after her. She's been visiting Louise up at Craggy-more Lodge."

"Bet twenty dollars I marry her," said Warren. "I always believed I'd know the right girl when I first looked at her, and I do, too. It's thirty-five miles to New London and three into New York on the Shore Line. Parkie, before we hit the Grand Central I'm going to make her understand how I feel about it."

Parker hesitated.

"Aren't you going to introduce me?" Warren smiled at him with beatific enjoyment of the situation and, as the New York express pulled in, somehow Louise had managed the introduction in her quick way, and Warren sat beside Matie Burroughs in the general parlor off of the two parties. Mrs. Parker and Warren's Aunt Paula were far too occupied with their own reunion to bother over the duties of chaperonage, and Warren set himself to beat Time and Fate inside of three hours.

Matie, in dark green and white fox furs, took the onslaught demurely. In fact, she was rather accustomed to just such situations. Easily she parried his opening points. Yes, she had heard of him from Dave Morton, her cousin out at the School of Mines. Warren had been there, too, she believed. Was she interested in mines herself? She smiled doubtfully. After one has been brought up on mines, so to speak, they lose their glamour. For the moment, Warren forgot his bet.

"Do you know anything about the Diamond Eye?" he asked eagerly.

She glanced at him curiously.

"At Crooked Creek? I've heard of it. Why?"

"My aunt, Mrs. Edwards, is interested in it. You see, years ago, she befriended a chap who was pretty well down and out. She's always helping somebody, bless her, and this fellow believed he could locate an old mining claim somebody had told him about. You read about such cases and it seems like a joke, but this came true. He found the claim, and staked it. Then he took in a partner, and they worked it together. Well he died, and left his half to Aunt Paula in return for what she had done for him. She didn't need it and handed it over to me. Aunt Paula's got all the money in our family, and she sort of played fairy godmother to us. Well, this all happened about twenty years ago. All I know is the name of the mine. I don't even know my partner's name. It's somewhere in Nevada—did you say Crooked Creek?"

She was interested enough now. Her eyes opened wide as she leaned toward him. She was all sparkle and suppressed excitement.

"What was the dead partner's name?"

"They called him Andy Bird. He was a queer old chap. Aunt Paula said he took out Epietus with him and Plato's 'Republic.' I guess he spent more time reading and dreaming than he ever did digging. Somehow, when Parker told me you were Matie Burroughs, I knew you came from Nevada, and I wanted to know you."

"I'm afraid you'll know me better before we're through with this," she said teasingly. "Dad gave me the half share in the 'Diamond Eye' for my eighteenth birthday a year ago."

"Gave you—"

She nodded her head quickly. "You know, he started in just as a prospector, and he met this old Andy Bird—oh, I've heard him tell it so often—way up in the mountains and he liked his books. He said he had a long shelf filled with them in the cabin, so he must have bought more. Maybe those two didn't bring solace in Nevada. Anyway, dad became his partner and helped him a little, but the claim never seemed to give back all they had expected from it. Dad's held onto it all these years for sentimental reasons, he said, and finally he gave it to me for my birthday, at least his half share. So we're partners! They call it 'Matie's Claim' out there. My own name is Elizabeth, but dad always calls me just Matie. You'll have to come out now and develop it and make it a winner."

Warren looked at her. "Do you ask me to go?"

"If we're partners, I suppose I

While the above comparative statement shows a large increase in deposits over a year ago, we prefer to call attention to our strong condition; to the fact that our bonds are worth MORE than the book value as shown in our statement; that our assets are clean and liquid; and to the fact that we have always been in a position to take care of any demand ever made upon us by our customers.

U. S. HAS NO DOCK FOR NEW CRUISERS

Rear Admiral Homer R. Stanford.

Rear Admiral Homer R. Stanford, chief of the yards and docks bureau, of the navy department, has revealed in his testimony at the hearing before the house naval affairs committee the surprising fact that not one of the dry docks of the United States is large enough to accommodate any of the big battle cruisers proposed in the administration's naval program. He said the Puget Sound dry dock could be made large enough, but those on the Atlantic coast were impossible. He urges the construction of a dock in New Orleans.

WATER BECOMES ICE AND ST. PAUL FIRE CONSUMES $225,000

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 18.—Water thrown on two fires early today froze before it hit and ice impaired the work of firemen in battling a blaze that did $225,000 damage along Jackson street. The temperature was ten below.

AGED COUPLE'S DEATH PROBED

NECEDAH, Wis., Jan. 18.—Authorities were yesterday investigating death of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hook, an aged couple who were found dead at their home here on Sunday. When friends went to the Hook home after they had failed to see Mr. or Mrs. Hook, they found the couple lying dead in the parlor. There were no marks of violence. They had evidently been dead about thirty-six hours.

AUSTRIA PROTESTS SEIZURE OF CORFU

VIENNA, via Berlin, Jan. 18.—The Austrian government has protested against the Anglo-French occupation of the Greek island of Corfu in a note transmitted through the American ambassador.

The Austrian government points out that occupation of the island was a flagrant violation of the London treaties of November 14, 1863, and of March 29, 1864, and shows a general disregard of international law. American Ambassador Penfield is asked to transmit the protest to France and England.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts. There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation. Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate, and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

GREELEY OF THE THRON

The Editor and Publisher publishes an impassioned appeal of Gabriella Greeley Clendenin, daughter of the late Horace Greeley, against the removal of the famous editor's statue from its pedestal in front of the New York Tribune building to Battery Park. The appeal, which is addressed to the people and city of New York, follows:

To the People and City of New York:
 I do appeal to you not to have my father's statue buried in an out-of-the-way obscure park. He who worked for and loved the American people with every fiber of his great loving heart—he who was the product of American ideals and who did so much to shape the lives of your fathers—let his statue rest somewhere in Printing House Square that his feet tread so often in his busy life. He desires not place in any Hall of Fame, but to be left among the people to say to the weary seekers for work, "I, too, sought like you and found work at last; do not despair." This statue is the work of one of the greatest of modern sculptors, J. Q. Ward, who spent hours studying my father as he worked in the office, who, after his death, took a mask of his face so that, combined with his strong virile genius he was in every way equipped to make a masterpiece in bronze depicting not the man only, but the very soul of Horace Greeley. Again, as the work of a great American sculptor, as a remarkable likeness of a characteristic American, let it not pass into obscurity. O People of this City and of his heart.
 Gabriella Greeley Clendenin.
 December 24, 1915.

Interesting by way of comparison is an article which appeared in the concurrent issue of Harper's Weekly

wherein the writer, admitting that American journalism is "rich in horrible examples," refers to Greeley as "the horrible example par excellence". Quoting from Thayer's Memoir of John Hay, Harper's supports its judgment with the following paragraphs:

From his editorial chair in the Tribune office, it cost him no more effort to tell Grant or Farragut what to do than to discuss the pumpkin crop with an up-state farmer.
 A list of Greeley's misjudgments,
 from the days when he supported Douglas for the presidency and upheld peaceable secession, down to the summer of 1864, when he labored frantically to stop the war, would serve as a warning against the deteriorating effects of journalism upon even a ready intellect and a well developed conscience.

We shall not engage in extended research to prove the injustice of this attack upon Greeley. We have but to look about us over the wide plains, through the mountains and valleys of the westland, to see his influence. We see it in the fine citizenry, the thriving communities and the development of the land. We thank Horace Greeley because he said:
 "Go West, young man, go West."
 Who shall say how many of our pioneers, the pillars of the western states, felt the influence of Mr.
 Greeley's advice? Greeley cannot be set up as a statesman-journalist, but he understood and loved the people, and he wrote well about pumpkins and babies. So it is said of Gladstone that he was not a great man for England, but that he was a great man for the English people.
 We would like to know that Greeley's statue may be permitted to remain in the throbbing street of New York, down among the people.

WOMEN'S INTERESTS IN THE NEWSPAPER

We wonder how much women readers of newspapers care for the "woman's page." Arrived at the conclusion that they are entitled to such a department if they want it the TRIBUNE has established as a regular weekly feature a Saturday page devoted entirely to the affairs of women.

During the recent convention of Wisconsin Women's clubs in La Crosse, there was considerable discussion of the failure of newspapers to give commensurate space to the work of women, and our new enterprise was largely suggested by that incident.

The TRIBUNE'S women's page is not the stereotyped grouping of cuts and fashion plates, with no aim and little interest, so frequently found.
 It is devoted to the interests and activities of the women of La Crosse and is designed to promote their enterprises and efforts.

The social activities of the women,
 those of the various clubs and societies, including church organizations, matters relating to the home and to the schools as seen from the viewpoint of women will form a large part of the matter. Civic activities of women will find space, and there has been added an excellent telegraph service covering the important enterprises of women throughout the world. Art, Music and the Fashions will be given due attention and an excellent illustration service has been secured.

The Saturday page will be the main feature of this department, but it will be continued throughout the week in a space occupying daily two or more columns.

We hope our women readers will follow this enterprise, and we solicit comment and suggestions upon it. We want women's view about it, whether favorable or adverse. We want to be told how to improve it and make it more serviceable. In a word, we want our women readers to help us make this department a success.

It's a good plan to compel respect,
 but don't do it with a club.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

A Winter Tragedy
 A muffled figure softly stole
 On hands and knees into a hole
 As dark as night. The way was rough.
 With coal and cans and other stuff:
 The place was clammy, damp and chill.
 As in a dungeon. All was still Excepting for the labored wheeze
 Of the explorer on his knees.
 Who sought a mystery to clear.
 In this deep, ghostly cavern drear,
 A candle shed its trembling rays,
 Distorting objects forty ways.

The grim explorer o'er the trail
 With trembling limbs and features pale,
 Pressed ever on, to be the first
 Of his kin to know the worst.
 Before him haunting fears did loom,
 That he was near financial doom.
 He took a timely mental brace
 And searched about from place to place.
 Until a pipe burst on his view.
 He found his sad suspicions true.
 He lost his moral courage then,
 And madly screamed, "Friz up again!"

Gambling and Matrimony
 "A married man," said a somewhat
 sportive widower sententiously, ought never to play poker. The odds against him are too heavy, for if he loses he catches Hades from his wife, and if he wins he has to divide with her."

Bottles and Rags
 Homer Rodheaver, the musical director of an evangelist, said in a temperance address at San Francisco:
 "Once, on a visit to England, I noticed that the ragmen, instead of shouting, 'Rags, bones, old iron!' as we all do, shouted 'Rags and bottles!
 Rags and bottles!'"

"I asked an English ragman one day:
 "Why do you yell for rags and bottles especially? What's the point of it?"
 "Well, sir," he answered, "the point of it is that my experience has shown me that wherever there's bottles there's bound to be rags."

Saw an Opportunity

 inee with his father, and when a trapeze acrobat failed to catch the

Another Wonderful Recovery From Kidney Trouble

For nearly nine years I was a great sufferer from what my doctor said was Kidney trouble and my blood was out of order; enduring all that time excruciating pain in my back and across my bowels. I was drawn down so that I could only walk with my hands on my knees. My doctor said he could do nothing for me. I tried many kinds of medicine but all to no avail. A friend told me about Dr.
 Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and as I had tried everything else that I heard of,
 I bought a bottle of Swamp-Root and it did wonders for me. I prize it higher than any other medicine and I shall recommend it to my friends.
 I wish to add right here that after using Swamp-Root for two months
 I began to straighten up and am now sound and well, and feel like I might live a long time yet to tell what your medicine has done for me.

Yours very truly,

air and fell sprawling into the net,
 the little boy was greatly excited.
 "They are never hurt," explained his father. "It is a regular trick to make such a miss once or twice to give the audience an idea of the difficulty of the feat and thereby to intensify the applause when it has been successfully performed."

Lionel thought a moment and then, with a bright smile, said:
 "Papa, do you think I could make a hit with my teacher by following this circus stunt and missing my lessons once in a while?"—Puck.

A Great Relief
 "Well, I see the Philadelphiaans are greatly relieved to get the Liberty Bell back safe and sound," said Dubbleigh.

"I should think they would be,"
 said Scrubbleigh. "I was afraid some souvenir hunter out there in San Francisco would steal the crack."

Unnecessary Labor
 In search of a job, the promising-looking lad applied at a livery stable, and was taken on at once. His first task was to grease the wheels of a carriage, and in a surprisingly short time he reported to the proprietor that he had finished this.

"What?" exclaimed the man in amazement. "D'ye mean to say that you've greased all four of 'em wheels already?"

"Well," replied the new hand,
 "that's not to say all of 'em. I've greased the two front ones."
 "But why haven't you greased the rear ones as well?"

"Seems to me," came the calm reply, "that as long as the front ones goes all right the ones be'ind is bound to follow."

Rude of Them
 For some hours the angler had sat on the river bank patiently waiting, always waiting.

A stranger to the place had been watching him for some time. At last he went up to the old man and asked casually:

"How are the fish in these parts?"
 The old fisherman rebaited his hook, threw it back into the water, and then turned calmly to his questioner.

"Well," he replied grimly, "I really can't say. I've dropped them a line every day for nearly a week now, and I've had no reply yet."

Modesty
 "Jones, the new war millionaire, is a mighty unassuming chap, isn't he?"

"Oh, I don't know. He never impressed me that way particularly."
 "Well, he has me. Why, several of us were out with him the other night and it was quite a party, and, you know, no one would ever suspect Jones had a cent."—St. Louis Republic.

General Crandall looked his surprise.
 "General, I'm an Englishman. You know that. I may be down and out, and my old friends may not know me when we meet—but I'm English.
 And I'm loyal!" Capper was getting a grip on himself; he thought the patriotic line a safe one to play with the commander of a fortress.

"Yes—yes. I don't question that,
 I'm sure," the general grunted, and he began to rattle some papers on his desk petulantly.

Capper pressed home his point. "I just want you to keep that in mind, General, while I talk. Just remember I'm English—and loyal."

The governor nodded impatiently.
 Capper leaned far over the desk,
 and began in an eager whisper:

"General, remember Cook—that chap in Rangoon—the polo player?"
 The other looked blank. "Haven't forgotten him, General? How he lived in Burma two years, mingling with the English, until one day somebody discovered his name was Koch and that he was a mighty unhealthy chap to have about the fortifications. Surely—"

"Yes, I remember him now. But what—"

"There was Hollister, too. You played billiards in your club with Hollister, I fancy. Thought him all right, too—until a couple of secret-service men walked into the club one day and clapped handcuffs on him.
 Remember that, General?"

The commander exclaimed snapshiply that he could not see his visitor's drift.

"I'm just refreshing your memory, General," Capper hastened to reassure. "Just reminding you that there isn't much difference between a German and an Englishman, after all—if the German wants to play the Englishman and knows his book. He can fool a lot of us."

"Granted. But I don't see what all this has to do with—"

"Listen, General!" Capper was trembling in his eagerness. "I'm just from Alexandria—came on the Princess Mary. There was an Englishman aboard, bound for Gib. Name was Captain Woodhouse, of the signal service."

"Quite right. What of that?" General Crandall looked up suspiciously.
 "Have you seen Captain Woodhouse, General?"

"Not a half hour ago. He called to report."

"Seemed all right to you—this Woodhouse?" Capper eyed the other's face narrowly.

"Of course. Why not?"
 "Remember Cook, General! Remember Hollister!" Capper warned.
 General Crandall exploded irritably: "What the devil do you mean?
 What are you driving at, man?"

The little spy leaped to his feet in his excitement and thrust his weasel face far across the desk.

"What do I mean? I mean this chap who calls himself Woodhouse isn't Woodhouse at all. He's a German spy—from the Wilhelmstrasse
 —with a number from the Wilhelmstrasse! He's on the Rock to do a spy's work!"

"Pshaw! Why did Brussels let you go?" General Crandall tipped back in his seat and cast an amused glance at the flushed face before him.

Capper shook his head doggedly.
 "I'm not drunk, General Crandall.
 I'm so broke I couldn't get drunk if I could. So help me, I'm telling God's truth. I got it straight—"

Capper checked his tumult of words, and did some rapid thinking. How much did he dare reveal? "In Alexandria, General—got it there—from the inside,
 sir. Koch is the head of the Wil-helmstrasse crowd there—the same Cook you knew in Rangoon; he engineered the trick. The wildest dreams of the Wilhelmstrasse have come true. They've got a man in your signal tower!"

General Crandall, in whom incredularity was beginning to give way to the first faint glimmerings of conviction as to the possibility of truth in the informer's tale, rallied himself nevertheless to combat an asper-sation cast on a British officer.

Indigestion May Be Due to Constipation

Neglect of Important Function May Seriously Impair The Health.

There are many people who believe they suffer from indigestion when their discomfort really is due to a constipated condition.

Bloat, with its attendant mental depression, sick-headache, the belching of sour stomach gases, etc., are frequently due to inaction of the bowels. Relieve the congestion and the trouble usually disappears. The use of cathartics and purgatives should be avoided, however; these shock the system unnecessarily and,
 at best, their effect is but temporary.

A mild laxative is far preferable.
 The compound of simple laxative herbs known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle, is highly recommended. Mr. Benj. Bassin, 360 Madison St., Gary, Ind., thinks Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin a wonderful medicine; for four years he had a severe case of indigestion and constipation before trying Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which he is glad to recommend to all who suffer with stomach and bowel trouble.

BENJ. BASSIN

sequences curbed his tongue, "Woodhouse isn't working alone on the Rock; you can be sure of that. He's got friends to help him turn whatever trick he's after—maybe in this very house. They're clever people, you can mark that down on your slate."

"Ridiculous!" The keeper of the Rock was fighting not to believe
 now. "Why, I tell you if they had a hundred of their spies inside the lines
 —if they knew the Rock as well as I do they could never take it."

Capper rose wearily, the air of a misunderstood man on him.

"Perhaps they aren't trying to capture it. I know nothing about that.
 Well—I've done my duty—as one Englishman to another. I hope I've told you in time. I'll be going now."

General Crandall swung on him sharply. "Where are you going?" he demanded.

Capper shrugged his shoulders helplessly. Now was the minute he had been counting on—the peeling of crackling notes from a fat bundle,
 the handsome words of appreciation.
 Surely General Crandall was ripe.

"Well, General, frankly—I'm broke. Haven't a shilling to bless myself with. I thought perhaps—" Capper shot a keen glance at the older man's face, which was partly turned from him. The general appeared to be pondering. He turned abruptly on the spy.

"A few drinks and you might talk," he challenged.

Capper grinned deprecatingly. "I don't know, General—I might," he murmured. "I've been away from the drink so long that—"

You can't always make everything "just so." Sometimes you will get in more shortening than usual; or make the batter a little thin; or it may not be convenient to put a cake in the oven the moment it is mixed; or your oven may not bake evenly and it is necessary to turn the pan around—none of these little uncertainties make the slightest difference in results if you use

KC BAKING POWDER

This modern, double-raise baking powder has unusual strength and is absolutely certain to raise your biscuits, cakes and pastry light and feathery. It generates an abundance of leavening gas both in the mix-cooked through.

FRENCHER LAUGHS AT INEFFICIENCY OF RIVAL GUNNERS

English and Bulgarian Artillerymen Stage Duel with Few Results

(This is the fifth of William G. Shepherd's uncensored story of the Anglo-French retreat.—EDITOR.)
WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
SALONIKA, Dec. 11.—All this artillery firing makes me laugh today. That big English gun isn't hitting anything and there are three Bulgarian batteries over there that haven't hit anywhere near anybody. They ought to send word to each other about how far they're missing. If they don't help each other out they'll waste an awful lot of ammunition.

He had to be going, at last. Would I walk along the road with him? "Right around the turn here some of the Bulgarian shells are well aimed," he said. "They're paying a good deal of attention to this turn this afternoon."

It was like getting ready to jump into a cold bath to start off with him. I knew that after I got my feet to working they would carry me along but the hard part was not to make an excuse and return to the ravine. My right foot started, however, and then my left and, fifty feet further on, we passed the turn and faced a mile stretch of road, cut along the face of the hill. Below us was the valley of Costorino; across it four miles away were the hills where the Bulgarians were. A few soldiers were on the road, walking singly.

Danger Ever Present

"Along here you may get a shell any time," said the Frenchman. "I have to walk along here a dozen times a day to get to my dugout from the kitchen back there in the ravine. Want to see my dugout?"

I did, and a quarter mile walk along the road brought us to a little ravine, on the side of which was a soldier's home, partly a hole and partly a tent.

Two other soldiers in the dugout were packing up their belongings.

"Just to be ready, if we go," they explained.

On a fire outside the dugout was a tin pail, with steaming contents. It wasn't coffee; it wasn't rum. It was half and half. I must have had two drinks of it. It had an awful buzz in it.

"We get two dippers full of wine and a half dipper full of whiskey every day," explained a soldier. "And we need it in the cold, too." I figured it out as amounting to a quart of wine and three fifteen cent drinks of whiskey.

"Are You a Tourist?"

"Are you a tourist?" asked one of the Frenchmen.

"Mon Dieu, you silly!" exclaimed his friend. "What would a tourist be doing here? He's a newspaperman."

I explained that six of us had been brought out to the battlefield and that I had lost the main party, but that we were to gather again at the waiting automobile at five o'clock.

"Well, it's time to go then," said my friend, "looking at his wrist watch."

"Good luck to you," they all said as I went away. I wished them good luck, too, for they needed it more than I did.

What happened to these French zouaves twenty-four hours later when the Bulgarian rush began, I don't know. Was all the new health of the little French soldier—the new health of which he was so proud—ended by a Bulgarian bullet or a Bulgarian bayonet thrust?

Our ambulance rushed down the mountain side at French chauffeur speed and into a valley behind Hill No. 516 which sheltered us from shell fire and at last we were so far away from the artillery battle that we could barely hear the guns.

OAKLAND CARS ARE LOW IN UP-KEEP

Physicians are believers in the value of the automobile in their business and use their cars ordinarily the year round without having the time to give them the care and attention that the ordinary driver bestows upon his motor car.

After completing 1,000 miles in an Oakland car in the course of his business, Dr. R. M. Olin of Caro, Michigan, checked up the total cost for the operation of his car and found that it had cost him $24.85. Dr. Olin claims that the car has been driven but little on pavement.

The speedometer lamp and fixture were stolen from his car, or otherwise it is assumed that the Oakland company would never have heard from the doctor or his car.

SUFFRAGISTS KEEP AGITATION ALIVE

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 18.—That some of the suffragists of the state believe in a continuous agitation of the subject is indicated by some of the letters received at the office of the secretary of state with the applications for auto licenses. Many of these letters contain the simple notation, "taxation without representation is tyranny."

Several such letters are received every week, many of them coming from the vicinity of Kenosha.

GIVEN CONTINUANCE

RACINE, Wis., Jan. 18.—One week's continuance was granted Charles R. Carpenter and B. Heinrichs, indicted officials of the refund Commercial and Savings bank in municipal court yesterday for their application for a two weeks' adjournment. The defendants contended they needed that length of time in which to prepare the various motions to be made and passed upon before proceeding to the actual trial of the case.

OLD ACCOUNT OF SPOUTERS PAID

Four Former Debaters of Normal School to Collect Three Year Old Expense Bills

At a meeting of the normal school oratorical association yesterday it was decided to pay four of the school's old debaters expense money which has been due them for three years. This question was brought up at the last meeting of the association and resulted in a lively discussion owing to the fact that the executive committee had not passed favorably on the bill. The matter was referred to the committee at that time, however, and it passed yesterday without any trouble. This action means that four former students will secure about five dollars to which they had bidden farewell long since.

Roy Ahlstrom, president of the local association, was elected to the vice presidency of the state oratorical association yesterday. Each year each normal school in the state is allowed to elect one of the officers of the state association. This was La Crosse's turn to furnish the vice president. Mr. Ahlstrom has been at the business end of the oratorical work of the local normal school for three years.

SENATOR RECOVERS FROM GRIP ATTACK

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 18.—The condition of Senator La Follette, who is suffering from an attack of the gripe, was considerably improved Sunday night, according to his physicians. He bundled up Sunday afternoon and rode in a closed automobile from the home of his brother-in-law, Judge R. G. Siebeck, to his law office and remained there a short time, looking over mail. He was so hoarse that he was unable to talk much with his political assistants. He said he would not attempt to resume his political speaking tour of the state this week.

A fairly large nose is a sign of an active, progressive disposition; one that "gets ahead" in the world, and is a good sign, if not too pronounced. A long straight nose denotes a fine, high-spirited nature, and a small nose is indicative of lack of energy and temperament.

To Hear More Rumors

It was supper time and a big banquet of a sort, was before us. Also, we were to hear more rumors of the coming retreat.

Our tent stood on an embankment alongside the railroad track.

On the bank across the way stood the little Strumitza railroad station where we were to dine. When we came out of the tent on to the darkness, a wonderful sight met our eyes. The lights of hundreds of campfires shone on hundreds of tents which had been pitched for the night by the withdrawing troops. We heard singing and a mouth organ.

SMOKER FOLLOWS INSTALLATION OF BARBERS' OFFICERS

Local Union, No. 21, of the Barbers' International Union of America, held its annual installation meeting last night in the Trades and Labor hall, after which a banquet and smoker was enjoyed by the members of the union and their employers.

Local Union, No. 21, was organized May 8, 1902, and is among the strongest unions in the city. It has a membership of sixty.

The following officers were installed:

Fred Beth, president; Arthur McMan, vice president; Edward Rosenberg, financial secretary; Emmons Boedeker, recording secretary; John P. Kemp, treasurer.

BOARD PLANS TO GO AHEAD WITH MERGER PROJECT

Mr. Goodrich's prediction was borne out by a decision of the board of trade directors, reached at a luncheon at the Stoddard hotel at noon today, when the decision of the La Crosse club was discussed. President E. S. Hebbard was instructed to appoint a committee to formulate plans for merging the Manufacturers' and Jobbers' club, the Retail Merchants' association and the board of trade.

Members agreed to back amalgamation plans. The committee to be appointed will be instructed to ascertain whether it would be possible, should the other two organizations agree with the amalgamation plan, to erect a club house here.

RYNDHAM REPORTED IN ACCIDENT NEAR MOUTH OF THAMES

Several of Crew Thought Killed in Explosion Reported That of a Boiler

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Officers of the Holland-American line this afternoon received a report that the liner Ryndham has been in an accident. They declined to give any further details.

An explosion of some kind is reported to have damaged the Ryndham while she was enroute from New York to Rotterdam via Falmouth, it was learned later at the company's offices, and several of her crew were killed. One unconfirmed report said she was damaged by a boiler explosion. According to advices received here she is proceeding into an English port under her own steam.

The possibility of a bomb having been placed in the Ryndham's coal supply was also suggested here.

The accident is believed to have happened while the Ryndham was emerging from the straits of Dover or off the mouth of the Thames, since she headed into Gravesend. Both those areas are heavily mined and it is possible the Ryndham struck the mine.

The Ryndham sailed from New York on January 5 with 150 passengers.

LOCAL CAPITAL BUYS THIRD OF VALECIA PLANTS

Reedsburg Condensed Milk Factory Purchased for $40,000; Sale Confirmed by Court

Third of the plants of the defunct Valecia Evaporated Milk company to be purchased by the Valecia Condensed Milk company, a venture organized by local stockholders of the former concern, a factory at Reedsburg was yesterday sold to the La Crosse investors. The local company became possessor of the Fontville and Middleton plants of the Valecia company some months ago. The sale of the Reedsburg plant was confirmed in federal court at Madison yesterday.

The Reedsburg factory was purchased for $40,000. With the Hillsboro plant of the concern, it was under construction when the original Valecia company got into financial difficulties. The La Crosse company will install machinery, and hopes to have the plant turning out condensed milk before the end of the year.

BOSSHARD HAS NOT HEARD MCGOVERN IS TO BE HIS RIVAL

Senator Otto Bosshard left Madison for La Crosse at noon today. He was expected at his office here before this evening. There was no opportunity to interview the senator, but in view of the time he left Madison it was considered impossible for him to have heard of former Governor McGovern's entrance into the gubernatorial race.

COURT HEARS AN ECHO OF CASE OF TOMAH FARMER

Woman Who Came Back to U. S. with Thomas Daley When He Left Family Is in Jail

Kate Daley, who came from Ireland to the United States with Thomas Daley, farmer near Tomah, fifteen years ago, lived with him on a Texas farm, and recently brought him to La Crosse when paralysis prevented him from caring for himself, is today an inmate of the county jail, awaiting for some one who will give her a place to work, or until sufficient evidence can be produced to allow Judge Brindley to sentence her.

The woman was arraigned in county court on a charge alleging intoxication, yesterday afternoon. A La Crosse farmer, for whom she had worked, and Mike Abraham, proprietor of a La Crosse rooming house, appeared against her, but were unable to prove she was intoxicated. Sheriff George J. Ritter testified that while in his jail, the Daley woman called for "something to drink" continually, and that he was forced to give it to her.

According to the story told Poor Commissioner Sol Burdick by Thomas Daley, whom Kate Daley brought here some months ago, Daley left his wife and family on their farm near Tomah fifteen years ago, going back to his old home in Ireland and bringing Kate back to America. The family never heard from Daley until he went back to them from La Crosse. Kate Daley maintains that Daley was her cousin. He told authorities here she was his wife.

platform. One of the soldiers was sent for a stretcher. The group then went to a clump of cottonwood trees beside an irrigation ditch, only a few feet from the Americans asleep in the Pullmans.

American newspapermen and a few Mexicans witnessed the procedure. Few, if any of the Pullman occupants were aware of what was happening. Valles' arms were tied behind him by a blue necktie which one of the soldiers gave up. A rope was then passed around his wrists and the other end of the rope tied around a tree.

Places Muzzle on Heart Instead of lining up a firing squad, Captain Regeno selected an executioner whose brother Valles had executed. This soldier, without orders from Regeno, approached the condemned man, placed the muzzle of a rifle against Valles' heart and fired.

Death was practically instantaneous. As Valles crumpled into a heap, several of the Carranza soldiers fired their rifles into the air, shouting "Viva Carranza," and "Death to the Villa bandits."

The body was cut loose from the tree, placed upon the stretcher and carried beside the sleeping cars. Soldiers and Mexicans passed the corpse and gazed on it curiously.

Massacre Partly Avenged

The Santa Ysabel massacre of eighteen helpless American mining men was partly avenged. Eight bandits reported executed at Casas Grandes were said to have been a group of the much larger band who forced the Americans to stand alongside their train while two executioners mowed them down. After the massacre this band split up into small groups and scattered, better to escape. The execution of the eight is the first authentic report of summary justice meted out to any of the Santa Ysabel murderers.

Man Hunt On

A great man hunt was on today for the other bandits who participated in this massacre. Carranza soldiers scoured the Chihuahua mountains for trace of the murderers. Americans were confident that the task of punishing the bandits would be carried out thoroughly by General Trevino, Carranza commander at Chihuahua City. Trevino has an American wife. He is a high-bred Castilian and graduate of Mexico's "West Point" Chapultepec. Apparently confident of Carranza's power to protect them, American colonists in Northern Mexico were not leaving the country as rapidly as state department officials here desired. Special trains sent into the interior to bring the Americans out were reported delayed for lack of refugees. In scores of cases American women and children were put aboard the trains enroute to the border and the men remained behind.

Two Trains Bring Refugees

Two special trains arrived in El Paso today with hundreds of Americans and foreigners. Another train of refugees was due tonight. Today's arrivals were from the Parral district and from western Chihuahua. Villa deserters arrived today with the story that the bandit leader reiterated his threats against American lives and property at Rubio, Chihuahua, four days ago. Villa was said to be in hiding now in mountains of Durango state.

Valles Villa Executioner

Colonel Valles, who was shot by Carranzista soldiers in Juarez today, succeeded General Rodolfo L. Fierro as Villa's executioner. Valles' record of executions rivals that of Fierro, whom Villa was said to have had quietly assassinated.

Two More Reported Slain

Two American prospectors, Victor Hamilton of Chicago, and Albert Simmons of Los Angeles, were murdered Saturday by Villista bandits near Pedricena, west of Torreon, unconfirmed advices received here this afternoon stated.

ROCHESTER BLAZE CAUSES $150,000 PROPERTY DAMAGE

Five Buildings in Business District Are Destroyed and Loss Is Not Half Covered by Insurance

MASONIC TEMPLE BIGGEST LOSS

Flames Are Controlled at 5 O'clock After Desperate Fight for Four Hours

ROCHESTER, Minn., Jan. 18.—(Special.)—Loss of approximately $150,000, less than half covered by insurance, was caused by a blaze of unknown origin that wiped out a quarter of a square block in the heart of the business district here yesterday afternoon. The Masonic Temple was the chief structure to be destroyed. Three stores are ruins today, and several other buildings were slightly damaged. The famous Mayo Clinic, across the alley from the Masonic Temple, was threatened by the flames for a time, as was the Zumbro Hotel, the largest hostelry in the city.

Buildings Burned The buildings destroyed were: Masonic Temple. Weber-Judd Pharmacy. Nachreiner Shoe Store. Sharp and Smith, surgical instrument shop.

Central heating plant of Mayo Library and Masonic Temple. In addition to the above destruction, the Western Union Telegraph company's building and that of the Foster Electric company were seriously damaged by flames. The Western Union office was out of commission this morning.

Controlled at 5 O'clock

The fire was placed under control shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, just before the arrival of a Winona hose company under Captain Rooney, that came in answer to a special call. The Winona company, on a hastily hooked-up special train, made a record run to Rochester, arriving in one hour and ten minutes from the time it pulled out of the Winona yards.

The fire broke out at 1:15 yesterday, in the basement of the Weber-Judd company's establishment. The druggists maintained a candy kitchen in the basement, and within a short time the entire building was filled with smoke from the burning glucose and sugar. It is believed the fire originated from some defect in the heating apparatus, but this is purely conjecture today.

Fight Desperate

The Rochester fire department, of eight paid members and twelve regular volunteers, was called at once, but they were unable to cope with the blaze, which spread rapidly. Volunteer fire fighters joined in the battle, but poor water pressure hindered the fight for several hours. More than fifty men were fighting the flames. For a time it appeared that the entire business section of Rochester was doomed, but the fighters gradually got the upper hand, with ten streams on the blaze, and stopped the ravages of the flames after a quarter of a block had been consumed. The Masonic Temple and the three stores in the block were ruins today, with only the smoke-blackened walls still standing.

About $60,000 insurance was carried on the ruined buildings, so far as could be learned from the owners today. The loss is roughly estimated at about $150,000.

Plans for rebuilding were in progress today, although details were still in the air. The Masonic lodge was to hold a meeting today, and it was expected their decision would be to rebuild further from the business district. The corner occupied by the ruined temple is one of the most valuable in the city, and it is expected that the lodge will sell and use the proceeds in erecting their new home. The Mayo Brothers are known to have been anxious to buy the site

this district. He was re-elected in 1912.

Senator Bosshard was one of the earliest active supporters of Robert M. La Follette's ideals and political activities, and in the legislature he took a leading part almost from his entrance. In the 1912 and 1915 sessions he was recognized as the leader of the progressive wing because of his readiness and power in debate. As an orator of no mean attainments, of penetrating wit and acumen, he has been perhaps the most feared opponent in legislative debate of the last two sessions.

Headed Corporations Committee

Senator Bosshard made an enviable record as chairman of the committee on corporations in the sessions of 1913 and 1915. Through his committee were molded the "Blue Sky Law" and other legislation which has distinguished Wisconsin for its fair and impartial treatment of business in relation to public policy. The successful operation of the laws affecting commerce passed during the period of Senator Bosshard's chairmanship of the corporations committee is said to be traceable in large part to the La Crosse man's combination of sound governmental theory and hard-headed common sense. With an extensive business experience as a member of the directing body of the Batavian National bank and as president of the Bank of Holmen, Senator Bosshard has been distinguished as much for his practical insight as for his consistently progressive viewpoint.

LIPPETT WANTS QUICK ACTION PROPOSES ARMS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—In a final effort to get quick action by the senate in the Mexican situation, a resolution calling for immediate intervention was offered this afternoon. Senator Lippett of Rhode Island was the author, but the senate forces opposing the administration course backed the effort and acrimonious debate resulted.

Senator Borah had already attacked further delay, objecting to referring Senator Lewis' resolution, empowering the use of armed force, to the foreign relations committee.

"What Americans need is aid now," he said. "So far as aiding them is concerned, the resolution might as well be killed here as sent to the committee."

YAQUIS REPORTED SENT AGAINST THE ZAPATA FORCES

GALVESTON, Texas, Jan. 18.—Twenty thousand of General Obregon's Yaqui Indian warriors have been sent into the states of Morelos and Oaxaca to conduct guerilla warfare against the Zapatistas, according to advices received by the Mexican consulate here today.

for some time. Two of the buildings destroyed belonged to the Mayos.

Insane Fighters Help

The entire fire fighting apparatus of the state insane asylum, together with a force of inmates who have been trained in the work, helped fight the fire. They were offered by a number of guards from the institution, and did yeoman service.

During the fire every roof in the business district was alive with men working frantically with snow shovels and pails to extinguish floating embers carried from the flames. Several sporadic blazes that might have spread the flames over a wide area were thus extinguished.

Three Hurt

The three men hurt were George Morrison, Clarence Hanson and Rex Robinson. Hanson and Robinson, the latter an electrician, at the Mayo Clinic, fell from a ladder. Morrison was badly injured, but will live. Hanson was only superficially bruised. Robinson, a prominent jeweler of the city, who was assisting the volunteer firemen, was deeply gashed on the left hand by falling glass.

Land Near Athens

Amsterdam correspondents telegraphed today reports of the landing of a British force at Piraeus, five miles from Athens and also at Phaleron. The news was received from Berlin and has not been confirmed by Athens correspondents of news agencies or English newspapers.

The war office would not comment on the Berlin report. Officials generally ridiculed a Berlin statement that the Greek government was about to move to Larissa, eighty miles southwest of Salonika through fear that the allies were threatening Greek neutrality. They pointed out that if this were the case, Larissa would be no more impregnable to Anglo-French attack than Athens.

Important Developments Imminent

In diplomatic circles it was persistently rumored today that important developments are imminent in the situation in Greece. The meeting of the Greek parliament next Monday, it was reported may bring a reopening of discussion of some of the matters in dispute between Greece and the allies.

Bulgarian troops are being withdrawn from Albania because of dissensions among the Austro-Germans and the Bulgars, according to a wireless dispatch from Rome today.

Bulgars and Turks Want Peace?

"Advices from Athens state that Bulgaria and Turkey are inclined to conclude peace with the allies," added the Rome message. The Rome report was not confirmed from any other source and was received with the greatest reserve here. Recent advices were that the Bulgarian troops were pressing against the Serbians west of the Albanian town of Elbasan.

If Bulgarian troops have been withdrawn from Albania, neutral observers believe this is either because there are no more for the Salonika campaign or because Bulgaria fears their presence in Albania may cause Italy to begin an energetic campaign in the Balkans.

GERMANY DISCLAIMS SINKING OF PERSIA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—It was not a German submarine that sank the liner Persia, according to the German government. Dispatches to the state department today from Berlin said that all German submarine commanders had reported since the British liner was sunk. None of them reported they were in the vicinity of the sinking.

SHALL THE BLIND LEAD THE BLIND?

"Five dollars for a pair of spectacles? Absurd. If the boy needs glasses I can take him down to the five and ten cent store and get him a pair."

Sounds impossible, doesn't it? Yet

NOSE CLOGGED FROM A COLD OR CATARRH

Apply Cream in Nostrils To Open Up Air Passages.

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, mucous discharge, headache, dizziness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Eli's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head, soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Eli's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid.

that is exactly the reception which was given one school nurse when she went to a mother in a northern Wisconsin town to tell her that an examination of her boy's eyes proved that the sight of one of them was nearly gone and that proper glasses were absolutely essential. The boy was twelve years old. He was only in the fourth grade. Yet no one had ever thought to look in his eyes for the reason.

The nurse was puzzled. Finally she asked if the boy might be allowed to earn his glasses. The mother consented. The boy was eagerly enthusiastic. It was up to the nurse to find the work. She went about it in the best possible way by asking the editor of the local newspaper if he would print an advertisement for the boy. The editor did more. He published the story of the boy who wanted work to pay for the glasses which would save his eyes and within a half hour after the paper was on the street, a business man had telephoned the school superintendent to get the school glasses and sent the bill to him. Other offers of help made it possible to provide a little girl, also found to be in need of glasses, and to outfit a boy with school clothing.

The little story is a reminder of the responsiveness of humanity to the appeal of those in distress, especially if the burden bearer is a little child. Back of it, however, is another lesson that should not be overlooked, for the attitude of the mother is but an exaggerated expression of an indifference to the dangers of eye strain and of false ideas concerning the care of the eyes which are far too common.

"Please don't advise the use of glasses for children," was an appeal sent to me early in the history of this health instruction bureau. "By the time they are grown they will need two pairs and be helplessly afflicted at thirty. Turn them out of your hot, dry school houses, rather, and let them learn in the open with the birds and the rabbits."

Unfortunately the trying conditions of modern life make demands on us which must be met and nature sometimes leaves defects which science must supply. Our correspondent points out a danger, however, the same danger of which there is warning in the mother's assertion that she could get a pair of glasses for ten cents. For many a mother, anxious to do the right thing for her child, has paid five dollars and six dollars for glasses no more suitable to the need than if she had bought the ten cent variety.

If you have reason to suspect that your child is suffering from eye strain, if the eyes water or tire easily, if they are bloodshot or the eyelids are red, if headaches are frequent or the child seems dull and fretful and backward without apparent reason, consult the best oculist you can find. The effect of properly adjusted glasses may work a miracle.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

THIRTY MILLION DOLLAR FIRE IN BERGEN PUT OUT

BERGEN, Norway, Jan. 18.—The fire that raged in Bergen for several days was practically extinguished today, after causing a loss now estimated at $20,000,000.

Three thousand persons were made homeless. Relief is being sent here from Christiania and other Norwegian cities.

DOUBLE'S TROUBLE IN BIJOU PICTURE

"The Catpaw," an Edison five part photoplay, released through Kleine-Edison Feature Service, will be offered at the Bijou theater Wednesday only this week. In this fascinating story, a woman's unfounded jealousy plays a leading part and nearly lands in prison her accomplice. The man she devotedly loves. Another woman's dream of love is shocked violently by supposed criminality of her sweetheart, and altogether these women, for a time at least, have a most unpleasant experience in "The Catpaw." It all happens because an adventurer crook employs a "double" to represent him in society and at social events, while he (the employer) is busy as a bank burglar and sneak thief. His woman accomplice is not aware of the "double's" existence and for this reason finds cause, as she supposes, for being jealous. The "double" makes an alibi easy for the crook, but the poor devil acting as "double" finds his path through life anything but smooth.

REVOLUTION PLOT AGAINST BRAZILIAN GOVERNMENT FAILED

Petty Officers Planned to Overthrow Regime of President Braz

PLOTTERS WANTED HIGHER PAY

Plan Was to Seize Arsenals and Strategical Points and Force His Retirement

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 18.—A well planned attempt to start a revolution and overthrow the government of President Braz was frustrated by the recent arrest of more than 100 petty army officers stationed in Rio de Janeiro, the authorities announced today.

Confessions have been obtained from some of the men imprisoned on an island in Rio de Janeiro bay. They have admitted, it is reported, that the so-called "sergeants' rebellion" was financed by wealthy revolutionists.

Ostensibly the "sergeants' rebellion" grew out of discontent over the failure of the federal senate to raise the pay of petty officers and privates. Government officials revealed that the revolutionists planned to seize the army and navy arsenals, the forts guarding the bay and other points of strategical importance and then force the retirement of President Braz and his government.

Secret service agents learned of the plot and the leaders were arrested on the day the revolution was to have started. Mounted patrols and armed marines broke up two meetings of soldiers and took into custody all the revolutionists.

When she regained consciousness she was unable to make her own way to her home and her calls for help. They found her two hours later.

An Old, Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

Easily Prepared—Costs Very Little, but is Prompt, Sure and Effective

By making this pint of old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about $2, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup.

Get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful cough and heals the inflamed membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes.

The effect of Pinex on the membranes is known by almost every one. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract combined with eucalyptol and other natural healing pine elements.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

NO UNINSTRUCTED DELEGATION SAYS ATTORNEY GENERAL

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 18.—In a ruling handed down today Attorney General Walter Owen announces that in Wisconsin candidates for delegates to national party conventions must express their preference for a presidential candidate. This interprets the new law creating presidential primaries.

The ruling is important in view of the fact that Governor Emanuel Philipp, as spokesman for the conservative republicans, has been urging an "uninstructed delegation" to the republican national convention. The attorney general's ruling is that there can be no such thing as an uninstructed delegation, that the law provides that the voters shall instruct the delegates.

CONSUL INSISTS DEPARTMENT ASKED FOR SAFE CONDUCT

Agent at Juarez Says He Was Instructed to Make Request of Carranza

Both Bodies Await Report on Mexican Situation Promised for Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Developments in the Mexican situation added fresh confusion to the question of Carranza's responsibility for the American massacre at Santa Ysabel. Unconfirmed reports that two more Americans, Victor Hamilton of Chicago and Albert B. Simmons of Los Angeles, had been murdered by Villa bandits under the Arrieta brothers, sixty miles west of Torreon, also caused deep concern. The state department was making an investigation of the report.

Consul's Claim Refuted

Consul Edwards at Juarez and the department are at odds regarding whether the department asked him to secure safe conduct for the Americans. The department insists no such request was sent Edwards. He has advised the department that "in pursuance of instructions" he tried to get safe conduct for the Americans from Carranza authorities at Juarez.

Whether the Carranza consul gave such a safe conduct, as charged by several persons of the border, is also in doubt. That this particular point may never be conclusively proved is considered possible. If it is proved that Carranza actually promised protection, relations between the United States and the de facto government would not be strained further, except that demands for reparation for the American lives sacrificed would be emphasized.

Congress More Tolerant

Congress is now manifesting a more tolerant spirit regarding developments in Mexico. Tomorrow the senate foreign relations committee meets, but consideration of Henry P. Fletcher's nomination to be American ambassador to Mexico probably will be postponed until the state department submits information asked in Senator Fall's resolution regarding reasons for recognizing Carranza. Agitation for intervention is being held in check.

Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, today said the state department's report of the entire Mexican situation may go to the senate tomorrow. Stone had just conferred with Secretary Lansing when he made the announcement.

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL

If cross, feverish, constipated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Two Local Girls Enter Race Which May Give Them Try-outs Before the Camera

Miss Clara Konechey, 1615 South Tenth street, a sister of Eddie Konechey, known to baseball fans throughout the United States as "Koney" and "Big Train," the Pittsburgh Federal's third baseman before that league went out of existence, has entered the "Beauty and Brains" contest being conducted by a prominent photography magazine in Chicago.

With Miss Konechey in the contest is Miss Dorothy Conley, 918 Berlin street, a close friend of Miss Konechey.

Eleven young ladies from various parts of the country will be chosen at the close of the contest to be sent to World Film corporation studios at Fort Lee, New Jersey, where they will be given thorough tryouts as "movie" actresses. The two La Crosse young women are working diligently for the honor. Lillian Russell and William A. Brady, noted moving picture producers, are among the prominent judges of the contest.

More Stamps Are Sold and Increase Is Also Noted in Parcel Post Business of Post Office

Showing an increase in the stamp sales and in the amount of both incoming and outgoing parcel post business, the annual report of the business of the La Crosse post office during 1932 was made public today by Postmaster O. R. Skaar.

The increase in stamp sales over 1931, according to the report, is $3,810.61. Stamps sold in 1932 amounted to the sum of $129,933.12. Last year stamp sales amounted to $133,743.72.

The post office money order department showed a slight decrease from 1931 business.

CLUB REJECTS THE MERGER PROPOSAL

La Crosse Club Annual Meeting Does Not Consider the Plan Last Night

GOODRICH STILL IS HOPEFUL

Agitation for Union of Three Remaining Organizations Will Continue Says Sponsor of Plan

Merger of the La Crosse board of trade, the La Crosse club, the Retail Merchants' association and the Manufacturers' and Jobbers' club received a set back last night at the annual meeting of the La Crosse club. The plan was rejected without discussion. When the question was brought up the members voted not to consider it, it was learned today from members who were present at the session.

That the movement has not failed because of the refusal of the La Crosse club to join it was the statement today of W. F. Goodrich, original proponent of the merger plan. The agitation for union of the three remaining organizations will be prosecuted vigorously, Mr. Goodrich said.

George H. Gordon was elected president of the La Crosse club to succeed James Thompson at the meeting last night. T. W. Burns was chosen vice president; J. J. Abbott, secretary and H. L. Klein, treasurer.

Forrest Smith, W. F. Goodrich and President Gordon were chosen the club's directors for the coming year.

BERLIN DENIES VON PAPAN PAID PLOTTERS IN U. S.

BERLIN, Jan. 18. Wireless to Sayville, L. I., Jan. 18. Semi-official denial was authorized here today of the British claim that Captain Franz Von Papan, recalled military attaché to the United States, paid money to persons responsible for munition factory or other plots in the United States.

It was denied that Von Papan ever paid any money to Werner Horn, accused of attempting to blow up the international bridge at Vanceboro, Maine.

Running High Jump

Exceptional marks were set last night at the Y. M. C. A. in the third senior athletic meet of the association.

The meet was in many respects the most successful event of its kind ever held in La Crosse, nearly half a hundred men competing. The meets have become a regular part of the association athletic program.

Lester Bond, in the running high jump, was first with a mark of 8 feet 4 inches. Julian Bloom was five inches behind with 7 feet 11 inches, while Ross Veneman brought up in third place with 7 feet 10 inches, one inch behind Bloom.

Other results were:
Three standing broad jumps: Sheldon, first, 26 feet 4 inches; Bond, second, 26 feet 1 3/4 inches; Deering, third, 25 feet 2 3/4 inches.

Twenty-yard dash—Deering and Lunde tied for first place, 2 4-5 seconds; Peterson, Revard, Ahrens, Sheldon, Dean, Brown, Bond, Bangsberg and Veneman tied for third place, 3 seconds.

Five lap potato race—Ahrens, first, 26 2-5 seconds; Bond, second, 26 3-5 seconds; Veneman, third, 27 2-5 seconds.

Bond was individual star of the meet with one first, two seconds and a tie for third place.

What's Bar-Fly?
Madison Experts
Describe Species

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 18.—
What is a bar-fly?

An attempt is made by the recreational survey experts, who recently conducted a survey of the Madison saloons to classify and catalogue this species. How well it has succeeded may be judged from the following definition:

"Bar-flies are coteries of men who regularly spend a large part of their income on drink and loaf or play cards in saloons for hours; men, who for the most part, have no regular employment; some young men whose chance for future success is greatly reduced by late hours, bad company and squandered money."

NEGRO WITNESS
NEAR COLLAPSE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 18.— George W. Heals, negro chauffeur of the Mohr murder car and the state's star witness in the trial of Mrs. Elizabeth Mohr, charged with poisoning the murder of her husband, is near a state of complete collapse, according to a report in the court room yesterday afternoon.

Heals is being bolstered up continually by Attorney General Rice in the story he is scheduled to tell.
The report said Heals plead nolo contendere to manslaughter and the state is relying upon his testimony as its strongest evidence towards convicting the physician's widow.

HOUSING FACILITIES BAD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—President Wilson was told today the housing facilities for American troops stationed along the border should be improved greatly and at once.
Senator Smith presented E. R. Pirle of Douglas, Arizona, where a large force of troops is stationed. Pirle said conditions are bad.

ing a report that the resignation of Schreiber is a Wisconsin graduate of 1903 who has since his graduation been director of athletics at Pratt institute, New York, for five years,

GRAVES BEATEN BY LEWIS IN TAME
GO AT MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 18.— Ted Lewis defeated Kid Graves by a fair margin last night in one of the poorest bouts seen here this season.
The two did everything but fight. It might have been taken for a dancing party only for Lewis' elephant-like feet. Both fighters used their elbows, back-hand blows and everything else of the sort but their teeth fighting there was during the early rounds, but Lewis opened up later in the game and trimmed the Kid nicely.

When in doubt, keep quiet, and you won't make yourself so ridiculous so often.

GLAD MILWAUKEE
HAS W.G.A. MEET

Many Expected to Enter Tournament of Western Association in Cream
City

Recognition of Wisconsin golf by the Western Golf association in awarding the 1916 meet of the association to Milwaukee has set La Crosse golfers agog in anticipation of attendance at the meet, the date of which has not been definitely set.
The W. G. A., in joint session with the United States Golf association in Chicago, gave the meet to the Blue Mound club of Milwaukee over the Wheaton club of Chicago.

That more local people will attend the tournament than were present at the state tournament last July is predicted. The tournament will be the first held in Wisconsin for more than eleven years and La Crosse put-ters are bound to take advantage of playing with the stars of the middle west.

Members of the La Crosse Country club anticipate more stellar performances of local stars on a plane with the work of Robert Gordon and George Van Aiken, who in the state tournament at Milwaukee last summer reached the third round and were eliminated by ex-champions.

There's only one way to acquire wisdom, but when it comes to making a fool of yourself you have your choice of a million different ways.
